A note from Pastor Karla...

Who are you? And what are you here for? The search for meaning is a common quest we have as humans. No matter where we come from, who are parents are, our ethnicity, our gender, or our nationality, we all have a deep desire (even if it is masked) to have adequate answers to these questions. In fact, much of life, is a journey of discovery. The process of getting to the truth is often where we find what we are looking for. The problem is, we don't like process, we like a happy ending. Yet, an ending without a story, how boring is that?

I have been reading a lot this summer--brainless fiction. What I love about novels, if they are good ones, is they envelop you. You become attached to the characters as their quirks unfold, you get wrapped up in their wanderings, and cringe when they take wrong turns. The end of a good novel always leaves you longing for more because you have been invested. You have been invested, not just in the characters, but in the process the characters go through.

Our lives are like that. Our lives in Christ are like that. Each of us is a novel, a page-turner. With each step that we take of self-discovery, every time we submit to knowing God just a little bit more, we get closer to the end, an end that God promises will not disappoint.

But, I have to admit, I have a stack of books on my bedside table that are only partially read. Books that did not hold my attention long enough to make me

Session Highlights August 28, 2019 Session Meeting

The Session welcomed representatives of the Presbytery's Committee on Ministry (COM) to the August meeting. COM is visiting all the Presbytery church Sessions sharing information on Presbytery activities and seeking news of the successes and new directions of individual churches. Session members provided them with a long list of exciting and successful things going on around PLCPC! Elders and pastors told of the programs focused on children and their families, our efforts in the local community, our outreach to local missions, our excellent music leadership and preaching, spiritual growth and our excitement over plans for the renovation of our campus.

Rev. Karla Shaw reported on the development of a Capital Campaign Committee (CCC) that will create a pathway leading to funding of the renovation now being developed by the Renovation Task Force. The Session enthusiastically approved the Finance Committee's nominee of Pam Werner as Chair of the CCC. Pam will work with Rev. Shaw and others in recruiting the rest of the committee.

want to get to the end. So, since time is precious, I stop reading. Some of our lives are like those books stacked by my bed. We set out to do wondrous things in the name of Christ, but at some point along the way, our lives stop being a page-turner, but, the good news in Jesus Christ, is it is never too late to start over.

This year our theme of "Your Story, Our Story, God's Story: BE BOLD!" is a reminder that the next page is still to be written. May this year be a year where you give God a chance to rewrite and perhaps redirect some of your pages for his purpose and glory. Remember, you are a novel and, with God's help, a great one!

Diving into fall together,
Pastor Karla

The Three Promises of the Endowment

There are three fundamental promises on which endowments are based. Those promises are:

- 1. Donors' funds will be preserved in perpetuity. The income will be spent but the principal will never be invaded, directly or indirectly.
- 2. The Endowment will invest funds wisely. This investment keeps in mind the goal of "perpetuity."
- 3. The Endowment will honor and carry out the instructions and wishes of donors regarding both the income and the principal.

Over the next few months in the Spire, we are going to take a look at each of these promises in a little detail. They must be the guiding principles for decisions regarding the Endowment at PLCPC. Without a commitment to these three promises, a true, honest, successful endowment cannot exist. So, they are our promises to you—to donors and to the church.

Comments, questions, and suggestions are always most welcome. You may contact the church office, or any member of the Endowment Committee: Dianne Grafton (vice-chair), Mary Harker, John Leimbach, Ray Lidstrom (treasurer), John Pearson, Steve Smith (chair), Cara Thome, Jolene Wade (ex-officio), Pastor Karla (ex officio). You are also welcome to email the church office or Steve Smith, the chair of the Endowment (ssmith@cwsl.edu) with any questions or concerns.

Tenting Process is Complete!

Thank you all for your patience as we had to take a week to eradicate the termite population that had taken up residence in our walls, ceilings, floors, cabinets and everywhere in between. While it was a little inconvenient, it was absolutely necessary to protect our structures from further damage. This bit of prevention helps to assure we can continue to be a beacon of light in our community. We are especially grateful to the anonymous donor who covered the entire expense of the fumigation. What an absolutely amazing gift that is!

PRESENTED BY THE ENDOWMENT COMMITTEE

On Sunday, September 29, the Endowment will present a program at 9:45, in the Library: Maximizing Your Church and Minimizing Your Taxes. Our guest guru, Woody Ledford, will note ways that you can contribute to the Endowment or the General Fund of PLCPC and significantly reduce your taxes too. Some of this information is new, so come with your questions.

Renovation Task Force Update

At the meeting prior to the church BBQ on Sunday July 28, the RTF was pleased with the reaction and feedback from the Congregation about the Master Plan. For those who could not attend the meeting, the Master Plan is available for review in the church office.

The RTF met in August with the Domus architects to determine cost and phasing information necessary for Session and the Congregation to determine next steps. We discussed phasing option details and the need to meet with Directors of Preschool and Children's Ministry about specific needs for storage, playground space and administration layouts. Domus will research entitlement issues with the City and make resources available to us for our campus safety plans.

ROOTED

Rooted is a 10-week journey for people in every life stage.

evan@pointlomachurch.org

Rooted is a 10-week journey for people in every life stage. The weekly readings teach us what it means to be a disciple of Jesus through Scripture, prayer, worship, generosity and service. It isn't simply a Bible study or a book. It is a community experience, where people practice 7 rhythms essential to a healthy relationship with Jesus. Individuals establish firm roots in the Truth of God's Word through personal study and then come together to discuss what they're learning in a space where they are safe and known. Join us on Tuesdays in the Chapel at 6 pm. Contact Evan@pointlomachurch.org for more information or register online at pointlomachurch.org/register.
